New York Salesman Found Dead in Hotel Room—Death Due to Aspydation.

Seated in a bath tub in the Hotel Hocker, and with a loaded 32 calibre Marlin rifle on the floor by his side, William H. Hawley, a salesman for the E. W. Marvin company of Troy, N. Y. committed suicide by asphyxiation sometime during Monday night.

The body was found shortly after mine o'clock Tuesday morning, when investigation was made subsequent to the report of the edor of gas from the room, made to the office by one of the chambermaids.

The doors were fastened on the sales are sales at Montreal.

side, and entrance was obtained by forcing the door, after the body had been seen in a sitting position in the lub through a transom, which was broken that the view might be obtained. Whether or not the deceased intended to use the rifle and changed his mind, or reserved it in case the other method did not work, is not known, but he evidently intended to make his death certain, for the cracks around the doors and transom were stuffed with newspapers, and every opening cluded a trunk and suit case, and his clothing was of good quality. A let-ter received from his firm showed that few days, and thirty-five of that amount had been sent away by money

After an examination by Dr. L. I. Mason, the medical examiner, who pronounced death due to axphyxiation, the remains were turned over to Funeral Director Jay M, Shepard, to, await the disposition of this relatives. Hawley was a frequent visitor in twon making a business trip every two months, but did not often stop over night.
